This project is created by me and my one of the best friend Hemanth, we both worked hard for this project and we build everything with together. In this project we use CSS as Well as Java script and we tried a lot new things to decorate it and in which the main role is playing by buttons, this will help our project and our news website to link with other website, such as if you try to go to sports button then it will link you with the sports channel and the website and if you want to login then you can login to. We used the CSS there so that you can login easily and also we use table by which we arranged all the things one by one such as the national and international things like sports and we arranged the other things, we use CSS for making our logo on the upside and also we use home button.

Here at every part of this project we tried something new and creative, for this we learn new things from the internet too and apart from that our teacher taught us everything already in the class which helped us a lot for this project.

During this project we enjoyed a lot and we faced more challenges too, and apart from that we learn a lot of the new things and we come to know the importance of html and css and java script for creating the website and also now this is our motive to try and develop some new things with these new tools.

In this project we mostly use button and link our almost everything with new sites so that one who want to study particular things, they can.

If someone wants to read about entertainment then they don't have to visit to overall news site they can directly go there and they can read it.

Apart from that we use our linked in profile so that if any one having any queries then they can easily ask and report also if they think anything printed in this news site is wrong. We gave our contact detail too.

Thank you

Hope this news website everyone will like it.
